For those who don't follow the CPCS Scheme, the qualification can be undertaken to underpin their competency in the role of Crane Supervisor.

OVERVIEW

In order to convert a CPCS Red Trained Plant Operator Card to a CPCS Blue Competent Operator Card, trained operators must achieve a Level 4 NVQ Diploma in Controlling Lifting Operations.

As well as converting their card to a Blue Competent Operator Card, the candidate will also receive a nationally recognised qualification which will be issued by Cskills Awards. This proves that they have demonstrated their competency in the workplace.

Ainscough Training Services is a Cskills Awards accredited assessment centre and we offer an assessment and verification service for candidates looking to achieve NVQs in Controlling Lifting Operations.

To achieve the qualification candidates must gather naturally occurring work based evidence which would include some or all of the following:

- Customer correspondence, enquiry & site visit request forms
- Initial site visit drawings and any related specific paperwork/photographs
- Method Statements/Risk Assessments, Job Sheets, Time Sheets, Crane Duty Charts
- Copies of CPCS card and any relevant training certificates
- Any other documentation which is agreed as being valid by the assessor and candidate

Once the candidate has gathered the above evidence and when they feel ready to be assessed, one of our assessors will visit them at work on-site and observe them carrying out their normal work activities. Once our assessor is satisfied that the candidate has provided sufficient evidence they will be passed for verification and certification.

CERTIFICATION

On completion of the qualification certificates of achievement will be issued from the awarding body; Cskills Awards.

Provided the candidate has an in date Supervisors Health & Safety Test the Blue Competent Operator Card can then be applied for. These cards last for 5 years.
